YESTERDAY AND TOMORROW

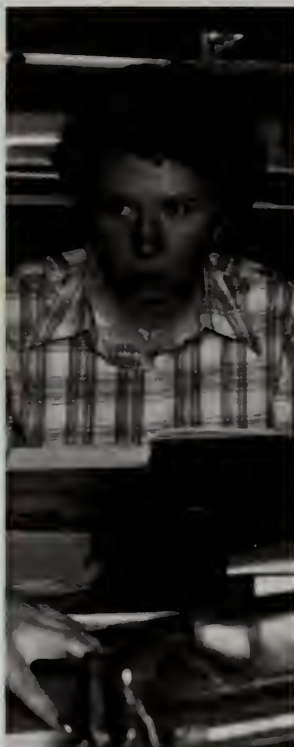

As if it were yesterday,
We opened the door
— to our individual hopes and dreams.
But most importantly to our unknowing future.
There was so much set before us —
Each year, one by one, coming and then leaving again.
Yet it really wasn't as simple as all that . . .

Every year was filled with dissappointments and triumphs, happiness
and sad moments.
We have been the dreamers trying desperately to create realities.

Facing today perhaps with complete self-assurance and then, tomorrow,
maybe with fear.

We are life's youth, so we ask what is youth?
What are we?
That is something that each of us has to discover.
Who am I and what is my role in life?
Too many questions and not enough answers.
Time is so essential
We need to make each second worthwhile Living and Loving
That is the true secret to life.

Live life, love,
and be happy.
We must strive to be the promise of tomorrow
And thrill to the challenges awaiting . . .

We must do even what we are afraid to do Because it takes that unusual courage that young people of today seem to have —
That courage which comes from deep inside.

With our hearts, hands,
minds, and souls
We must make each decision
And look upon all of these years with a sense of pride.

We've laughed
We've cried
We've sung
We've played We've worked
And all of it
We've done together.

We came as one — opening the door
To friendships that will stay with us forever.
But now the door is closing
Just as our times together are coming to an end.
A little sad, a little scared, but most of all hopeful.
We're on the road to search for our new tomorrow, Yet in our minds the memories will always be there.

Organizations

Change which brings about improvement is something that is achieved through hard work, consistent effort, and strong minds. The 1978 POLARION has changed style, attitude, and theory in an effort to put aside stereotypes and to create something unusual. As a school, Apponequet displays a unique, individualized collection of ideas that reflect the thoughts and feelings of two communities constantly undergoing growth and change. This yearbook will, hopefully, be more than a reflection of the past years filled with hopes and dreams but will represent an open-mindedness in attitude and a new understanding and desire for improvement. As a staff, we proudly display our work in the hopes that these changes will be widely accepted by the student body and the faculty alike. For as long as we are open to change, we can still progress.

Cross-Country

Daily, this group of athletes quietly face the challenge of running endless miles. These athletes are the cross-country runners, who have established a tradition of excellence in this sport and the responsibility of superior performance weighs heavy on their shoulders. Recently, A.H.S. was benefitted by a host of underclassmen who were willing to make the sacrifices of all good runners. The Lakers were also strengthened by the influence of senior, co-captain, James Gurney, new to the cross-country world. Talented runners, Doug Broadbent and Mark Roberts will continue to provide a sound foundation on which to build a future of cross-country.

Co-Captains Gurney and Broadbent

The League Meet Begins . . .

Field Hockey

Football and basketball, step aside; girl's field hockey has emerged as Apponequet's most brutal sport. Senior Karen Tivey assumed immediate command as team leader, guiding the Lakers through this most demanding and punishing sport in a highly successful season. Sue Rezendes and Anne Gurney also supported the team with their senior experience and confidence. Furthermore, Joan Allison consistently stopped the enemy offense while many underclassmen performed admirably. A strong field hockey team will remain to enhance Apponequet's athletic program for many years to come.

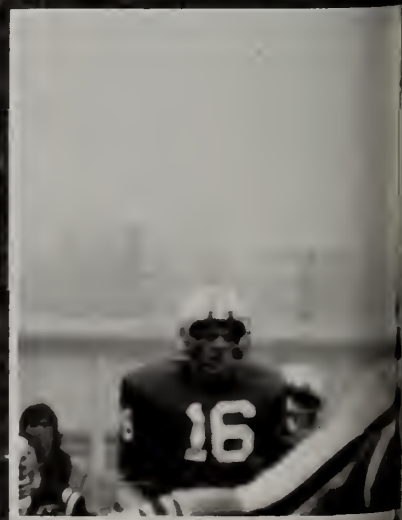

Captain Karen Tivey

1977 has proved to be a highly successful rebuilding season for the Apponequet Lakers. Strengthened by merely 7 seniors, the Lakers were often forced to depend upon the talents of underclassmen. Although pre-season predictions placed the squad's ability below the depths of its league, the Lakers constantly proved all doubters wrong leaving their enduring mark on all opponents with compelling effort, desire, and destructive defense.

Football

"I considered 1977 a re-building year for the Lakers. At the onset of the season, I knew that our underclassmen would play a major role in the success of our team. Fortunately, our sophomores and juniors were up to the task. Looking at our entire season I was very proud of our defense which had four shutouts. Overall, I was happy with our 5-4 record. It included a victory over West Bridgewater - the first in four years. Next year, if the kids exert enough effort, Apponequet might just take the league title."

Coach Piasecki

1977 Varsity Seniors

Basketball

The breath of life has stimulated the sport of basketball at Apponequet. After stumbling through years of mediocrity, the Lakers have discovered youth of talent and seniors of experience. Although this is THE year of the Lakers, the year Apponequet basketball would become universally feared by all opponents, perhaps even more emphasis is placed on the basketball of tomorrow. Underclassmen Steve LaChapelle, Bill Ripley, Mike Brown, and Bob Clark quietly shine amidst a multitude of established athletes. Seniors Crey Barber, Chris Allerdt, Art Bethea, Bob Fields, and Ken Aitken combine hustle and expertise to distinguish Apponequet as the team of today and the talent of tomorrow.

"Lockerroom Strategy!"

"Where's Kenny when we need him?"

Basketball

Despite the loss of several basketball legends to the clutches of graduation, girl's basketball has remained extremely competitive. The quest for another state title is not forgotten. Basketball symbolizes the grim determination and relentless will to emerge victorious of the Apponequet female sport's participants. These straits in combination with extraordinary, natural ability place Apponequet high among the best Mass. athletic programs. Karen Tivey, Voncia Costa, Ann Gurney, Karen Allerdt, Sue Rezendes, Cathy Donegan and the Maguires lead the Lakers to further basketball recognition. Defeat is merely possible on the court and on the field; it is not possible in the minds and spirits of these very special people.

"We love basketball!"

Swim Team

Showing some good talent and plenty of promise for the coming season, the swim team compiled a record of two wins and five losses in its first year of varsity competition although four meets were cancelled due to the Blizzard of 1978. Dominated by sophomores and freshmen, the key word for the season was improvement! High point scorers for the team were, in order, Melissa Lawrence, Doug Broadbent, Danny Hopkins, and captain Chuck Roscow. A bright future is ahead for this group.

Golf

Like tennis, golf struggles to gain recognition despite a series of highly competitive seasons. This past year, seniors Barber, Belkin, Wright, and Fickert combined efforts to lead Apponequet to a 12-7 record. Underclassmen Mike Durfee and Bob Barlow also played a major role in the success of the golf program. One reason for the steady improvement of the individual golfers is a ready access to three fine area courses. Another reason typifies all Laker sports- untiring dedication.

Tennis

Does tennis deserve two pages? No, it deserves three or four. Varsity tennis is perhaps the sport in which Ap-ponequet should have the most pride; yet, few people realize how good our team really is. This past season, Ap-ponequet received high recommendations for a berth in post-season competition by the coach of the eventual Mass. champions. This coming season is even more promising. Returning veterans Art Bethea, Jim Gurney and Richard Burke provide an awesome single's combination. Season records of 6-2, 12-2, and 12-4 including competition against the best teams in Mass. tell much of the story. If a brighter future is possible, it will happen in 1978. Watch closely, because the Lakers are engraving their name in tennis history.

"The Big Three?"

Baseball

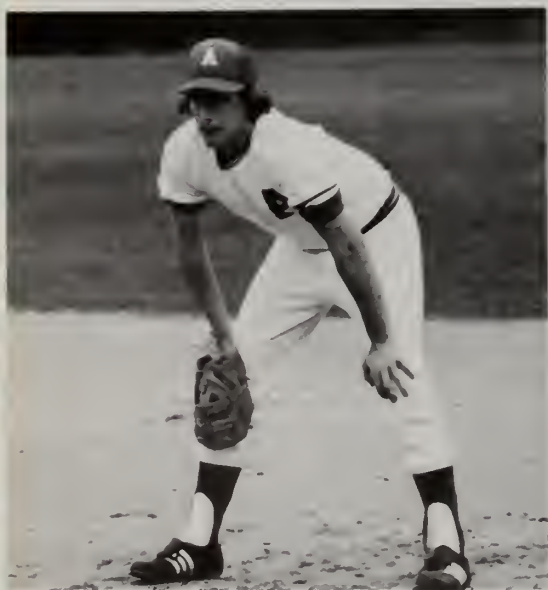

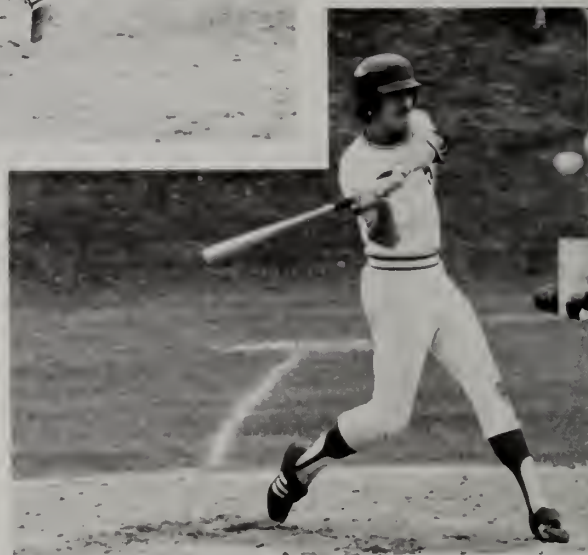

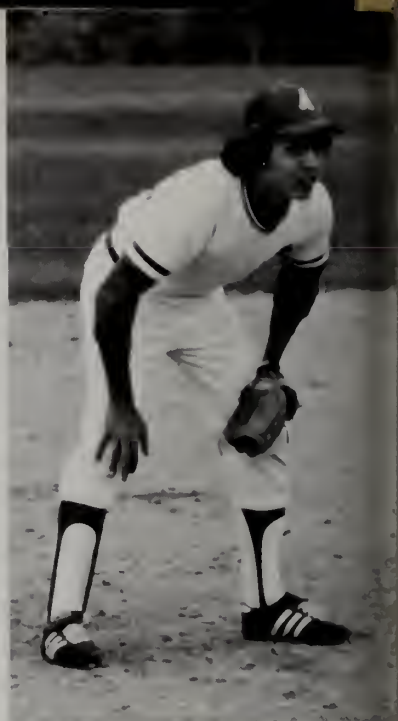

Quietly, a group of young men mold a baseball team. With each passing season, this baseball team assumes the shape of something even more wonderful. The Lakers have proved worthy of post-season competition for two successive years. Perhaps 1978 will be the year they prove worthy of the label champions. With the loss of pitching star Bren Barber, junior Stan Matthews waits ready to assume the burden of central figure. Matthews is supported in his effort by seniors Kubel, Patton, Machado, Constantine, Abbott, Roscow and Bernier. Perhaps 1978 is the year these people and their team will assume the title champions. We shall wait and hope that their diligent efforts are rewarded with success.

Teamwork and Togetherness

Softball

The reflection of the past is the image of the future. Tiny Apponequet, giant killer. Southeastern Mass. champions-1976; Eastern Mass. champions-1975, 1977; Brenda Soule; Holly Booth; Kathy Kristopherson; The glory of the past is the glory of the future. Tivey, Allison, Ruest, Rezendes, Costa, Gurney, Donegan, Maguire-names soon to bring grand accomplishment. Dedication, devotion, enthusiasm, team before self; champions- terms which are the Lakers. Long after softball has ended, these young women will treasure many championship memories; these young women will remember how to live as champions. And Coach Looney will continue to shape the legend of softball.

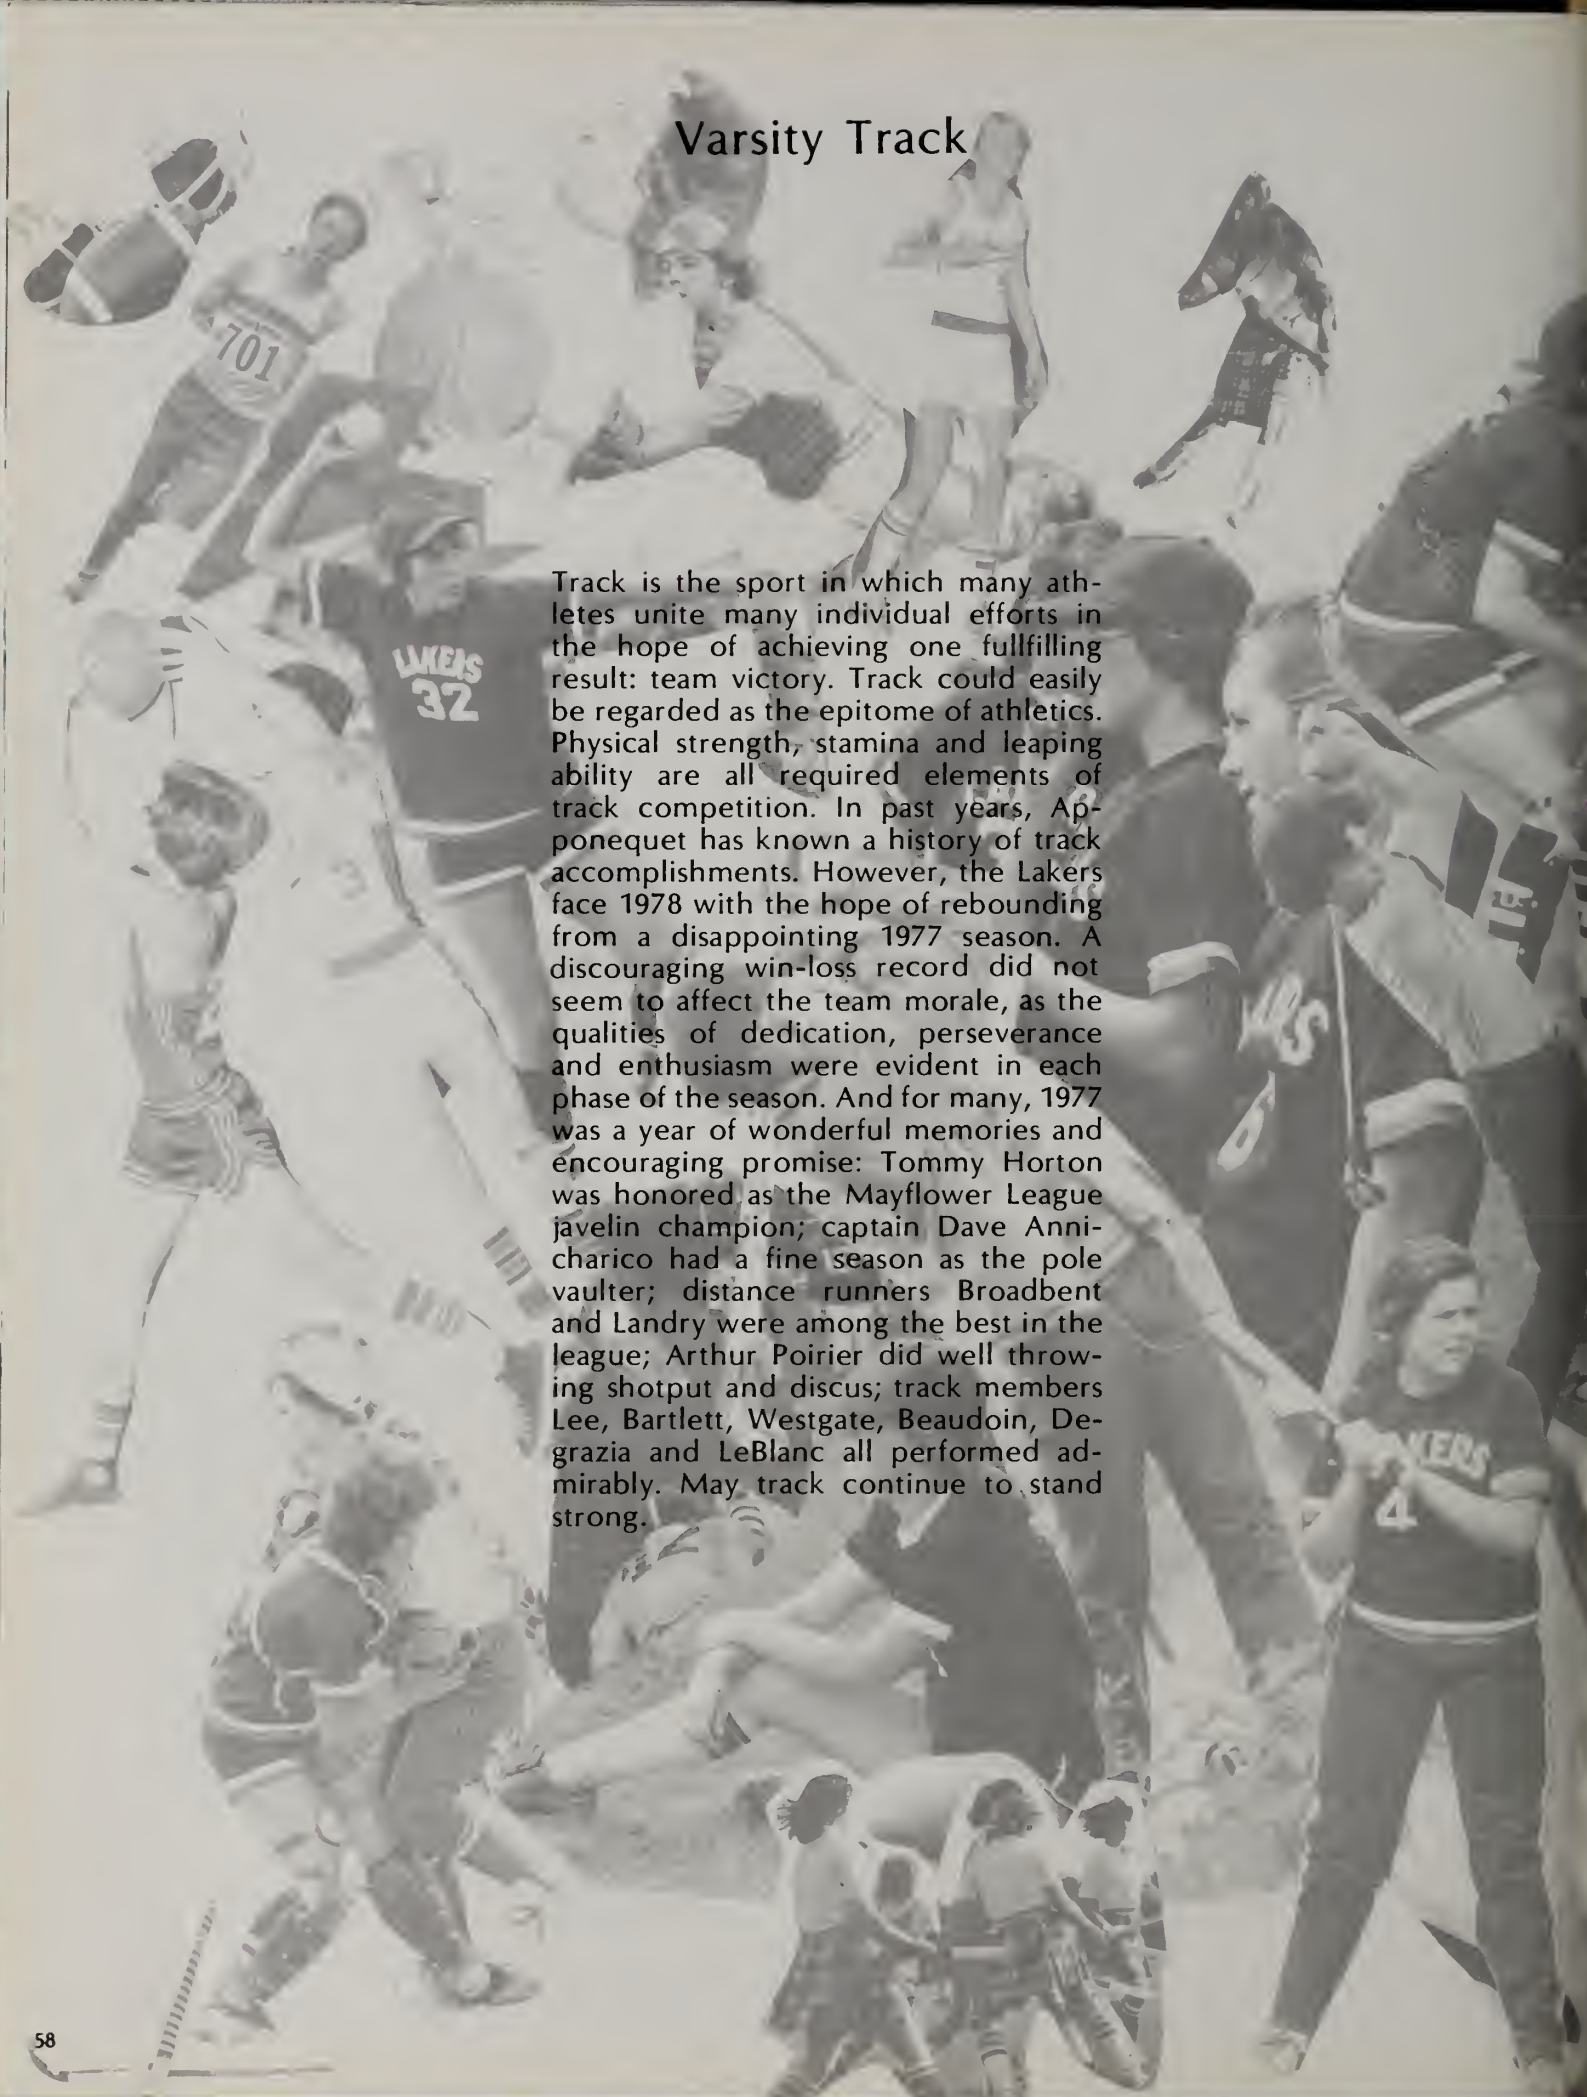

"The agony

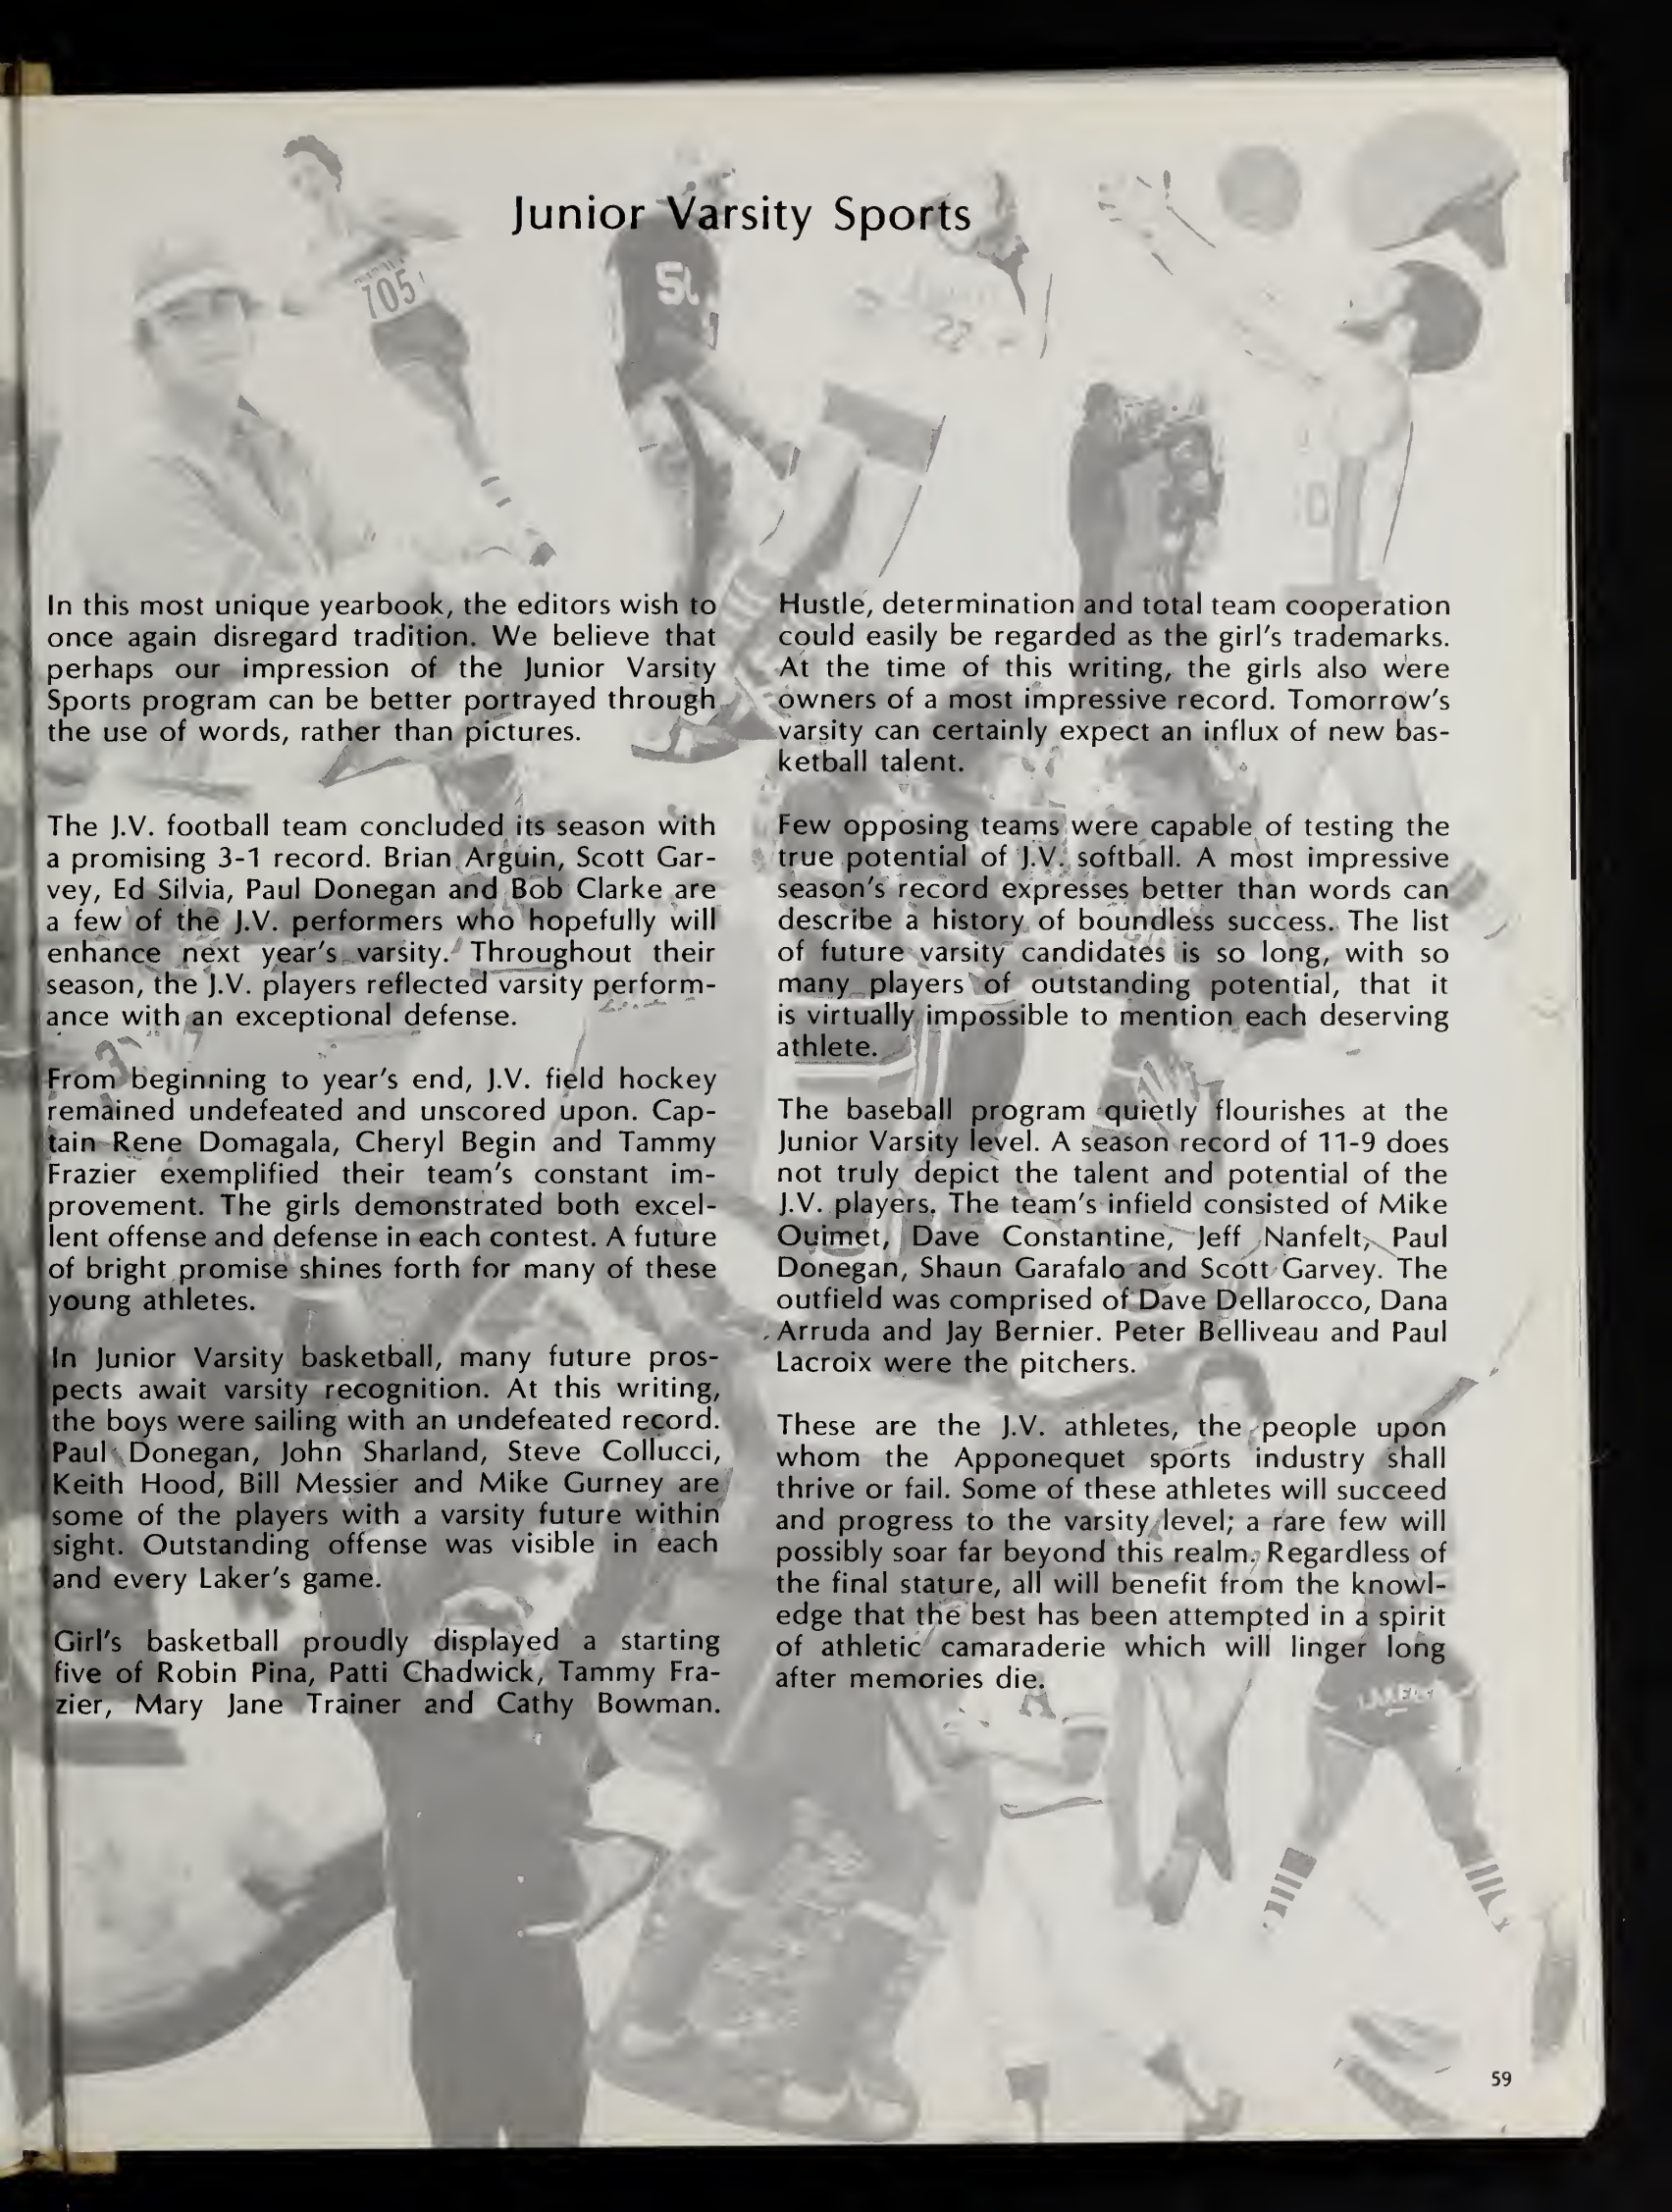

f defeat!"

Varsity Track

Track is the sport in which many athletes unite many individual efforts in the hope of achieving one fulfilling result: team victory. Track could easily be regarded as the epitome of athletics. Physical strength, stamina and leaping ability are all required elements of track competition. In past years, Ap-ponequet has known a history of track accomplishments. However, the Lakers face 1978 with the hope of rebounding from a disappointing 1977 season. A discouraging win-loss record did not seem to affect the team morale, as the qualities of dedication, perseverance and enthusiasm were evident in each phase of the season. And for many, 1977 was a year of wonderful memories and encouraging promise: Tommy Horton was honored as the Mayflower League javelin champion; captain Dave Anni-charico had a fine season as the pole vaulter; distance runners Broadbent and Landry were among the best in the league; Arthur Poirier did well throwing shotput and discus; track members Lee, Bartlett, Westgate, Beaudoin, Degrazia and LeBlanc all performed admirably. May track continue to stand strong.

Junior Varsity Sports

In this most unique yearbook, the editors wish to once again disregard tradition. We believe that perhaps our impression of the Junior Varsity Sports program can be better portrayed through the use of words, rather than pictures.

The J.V. football team concluded its season with a promising 3-1 record. Brian Arguin, Scott Garvey, Ed Silvia, Paul Donegan and Bob Clarke are a few of the J.V. performers who hopefully will enhance next year's varsity. Throughout their season, the J.V. players reflected varsity performance with an exceptional defense.

From beginning to year's end, J.V. field hockey remained undefeated and unscored upon. Captain Rene Domagala, Cheryl Begin and Tammy Frazier exemplified their team's constant improvement. The girls demonstrated both excellent offense and defense in each contest. A future of bright promise shines forth for many of these young athletes.

In Junior Varsity basketball, many future prospects await varsity recognition. At this writing, the boys were sailing with an undefeated record. Paul Donegan, John Sharland, Steve Collucci, Keith Hood, Bill Messier and Mike Gurney are some of the players with a varsity future within sight. Outstanding offense was visible in each and every Laker's game.

Girl's basketball proudly displayed a starting five of Robin Pina, Patti Chadwick, Tammy Frazier, Mary Jane Trainer and Cathy Bowman.

Hustle, determination and total team cooperation could easily be regarded as the girl's trademarks. At the time of this writing, the girls also were owners of a most impressive record. Tomorrow's varsity can certainly expect an influx of new basketball talent.

Few opposing teams were capable of testing the true potential of J.V. softball. A most impressive season's record expresses better than words can describe a history of boundless success. The list of future varsity candidates is so long, with so many players of outstanding potential, that it is virtually impossible to mention each deserving athlete.

The baseball program quietly flourishes at the Junior Varsity level. A season record of 11-9 does not truly depict the talent and potential of the J.V. players. The team's infield consisted of Mike Ouimet, Dave Constantine, Jeff Nanfelt, Paul Donegan, Shaun Garafalo and Scott Garvey. The outfield was comprised of Dave Dellarocco, Dana Arruda and Jay Bernier. Peter Belliveau and Paul Lacroix were the pitchers.

These are the J.V. athletes, the people upon whom the Apponequet sports industry shall thrive or fail. Some of these athletes will succeed and progress to the varsity level; a rare few will possibly soar far beyond this realm. Regardless of the final stature, all will benefit from the knowledge that the best has been attempted in a spirit of athletic camaraderie which will linger long after memories die.

"That's life, take the good with the bad."
Football 1,2,3,4, (co-capt.); Baseball 1,2,3,4
Steve would like to work in law enforcement and travel to Canada after school. Happiness to him is fooling around. Some of Steve's favorites are seafood, Boston Garden, Aerosmith, hockey, winter, and, of course, 1:35. His favorite day is Christmas, and his favorite pastime is building model planes. One thing Steve can't stand is people who throw food in the cafeteria. Although he most admires his parents, Steve's favorite person is his grandfather. You would most likely find him hiding in the gym or cutting English.

VOCATIONAL

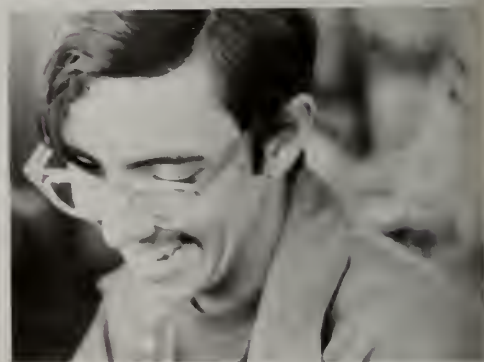

D.E.C.A.

It is not enough for young men and women to read about becoming good businessmen and women and good citizens; they must be provided an opportunity to actually participate as individuals in group endeavors and projects conducted under the guidance of representatives of education, business, and the professions. Members of D.E.C.A. learn how to compete honorably with their colleagues on the local, state, and national levels; how to engage in individual and group business enterprises; how to hold offices and direct the affairs of the group; and, how to work with representatives of other student organizations.

Remember When . . .

Mr. Just used to throw his rubber chicken around the room?
 We got stickers on our heads for getting good marks?
 Mr. Tripp and Kim always argued?
 We all went out for football and never made it past camp?
 Sue got stuck in the waste basket?
 The boys lifted up our skirts at recess.
 When we all wore little red boots to school when it rained?
 Pee Wee Olympics?
 We had Show and Tell?
 Debbie, Sandy, Hine, Arlene and Cheri spent 60 pennies in the gum machine trying to get prizes?
 Joy got caught trying to climb on the school roof to put her footprints in the snow?
 Everyone went to White Banks?
 ALL THE PARTIES?
 The covered wagon and sphinx we made in the Middle School?
 The sleep-over at the Middle School?
 Dave pulled the fire alarm during lunch?
 When we were caught chewing gum we had to wear it on our nose?
 Lori dressed like Paul Revere and rode around the school on her horse?
 Jimmy passed a urine test paper around the room?
 In our freshman year we won the contest for decorating the gym?
 When Lyn walked around the halls with Playboy bunny ears on?
 Arthur Meack?
 Science fairs?
 Cathy Veary wet her pants in the recess line?
 Graduation seemed so far away?

"SH—!"

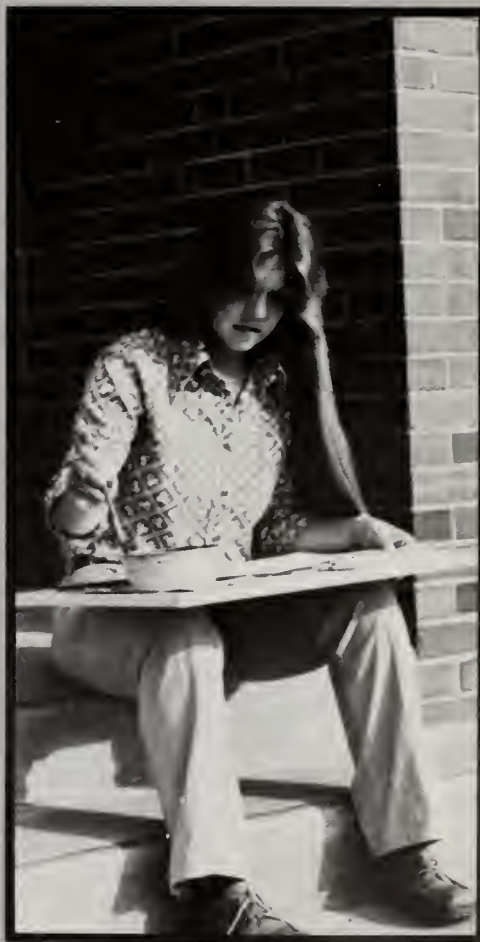

"Cool down Sandy!"

"Fashion can be bought, style one must possess."

"All I want for Christmas . . ."

"Pat Picasso?"

We were afraid of the principal?
 We were first graders?
 We couldn't wait to be seniors?
 Everyone thought the Middle School would be a big success?
 Rhonda was a witch and she casted love spells?
 Mr. Furtado's band played at our dances?
 We used to listen to music instead of science on the tape recorders in Mr. Wilcox's class?
 They sold donuts and we threw them at the teachers in the cafeteria?
 Dona thought helium made cakes rise?
 Graduation from Freetown Elementary School?
 Mr. Brulottes wig fell off?
 We used to go to the "apple orchards"?
 Kevin fell in Rootbeer River?
 When Mike threw a frog's heart at Dede?
 When we had a powder fight at football camp?
 Cashiering at Freetown Elementary School?
 Jim punched the fish tank and broke it?
 Everybody used to go out for breakfast at Bickfords?
 We used to put on soap operas between play rehearsals and Mr. Berry walked in on Ms. D. when she was doing a death scene?
 The Big Five?
 We used to make ourselves faint?
 Mrs. Cole used to twist our ears
 if we were bad?
 We made the giant birthday cake for Miss Soares in the 8th grade?
 When Chris banged his head on the wall because he couldn't be in his class play?

"Where art thou Romeo?"

"M . . m . . m . . m-Good!"

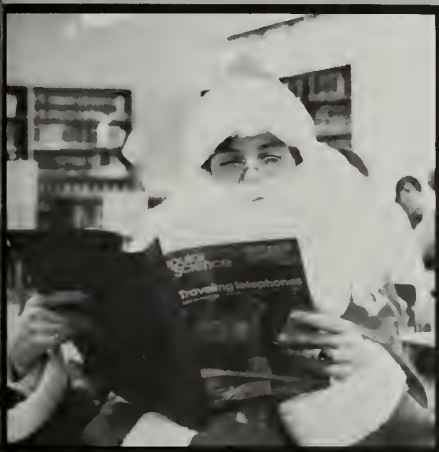

"Sitting on it!"

"The Choir Boys"

"Where have all the profits gone?"

Mr. Rose used to make beaver faces at us?

Lynn had to sit on four pillows to drive the car?

Mrs. Demoranville never got us our Smokey Bear Club Kits?

Kenny ran the wrong way with the ball during the basketball game?

Keith got sick eating "spaghetti"?

The whirlpool overflowed?

The meat pie suppers?

Mrs. Estabrooks and Miss Pekera gave us girl talks?

Marilyn's shoe fell off into the water on the boat to George's Island?

Kim, Debbie and Patti almost got kicked out of the library for a year?

We set off the timers in the Home Ec. room?

Toddy ALWAYS brought his lunch to school?

Miss Paulino got propositioned in London?

When the Lakeville and Freetown people first met at the Middle School?

When Betty sang, "Color My World" at the exchange?

Square ball?

Pat's M.G.?

VERY SILLY YEARBOOK MEETINGS?

Sandy's annual Christmas parties?

The week before our yearbook deadline?

"Scoring?"

"Lets go upstairs!"

"How do you spell relief?"

"Plop . . . Plop . . . Fizz . . . Fizz . . ."

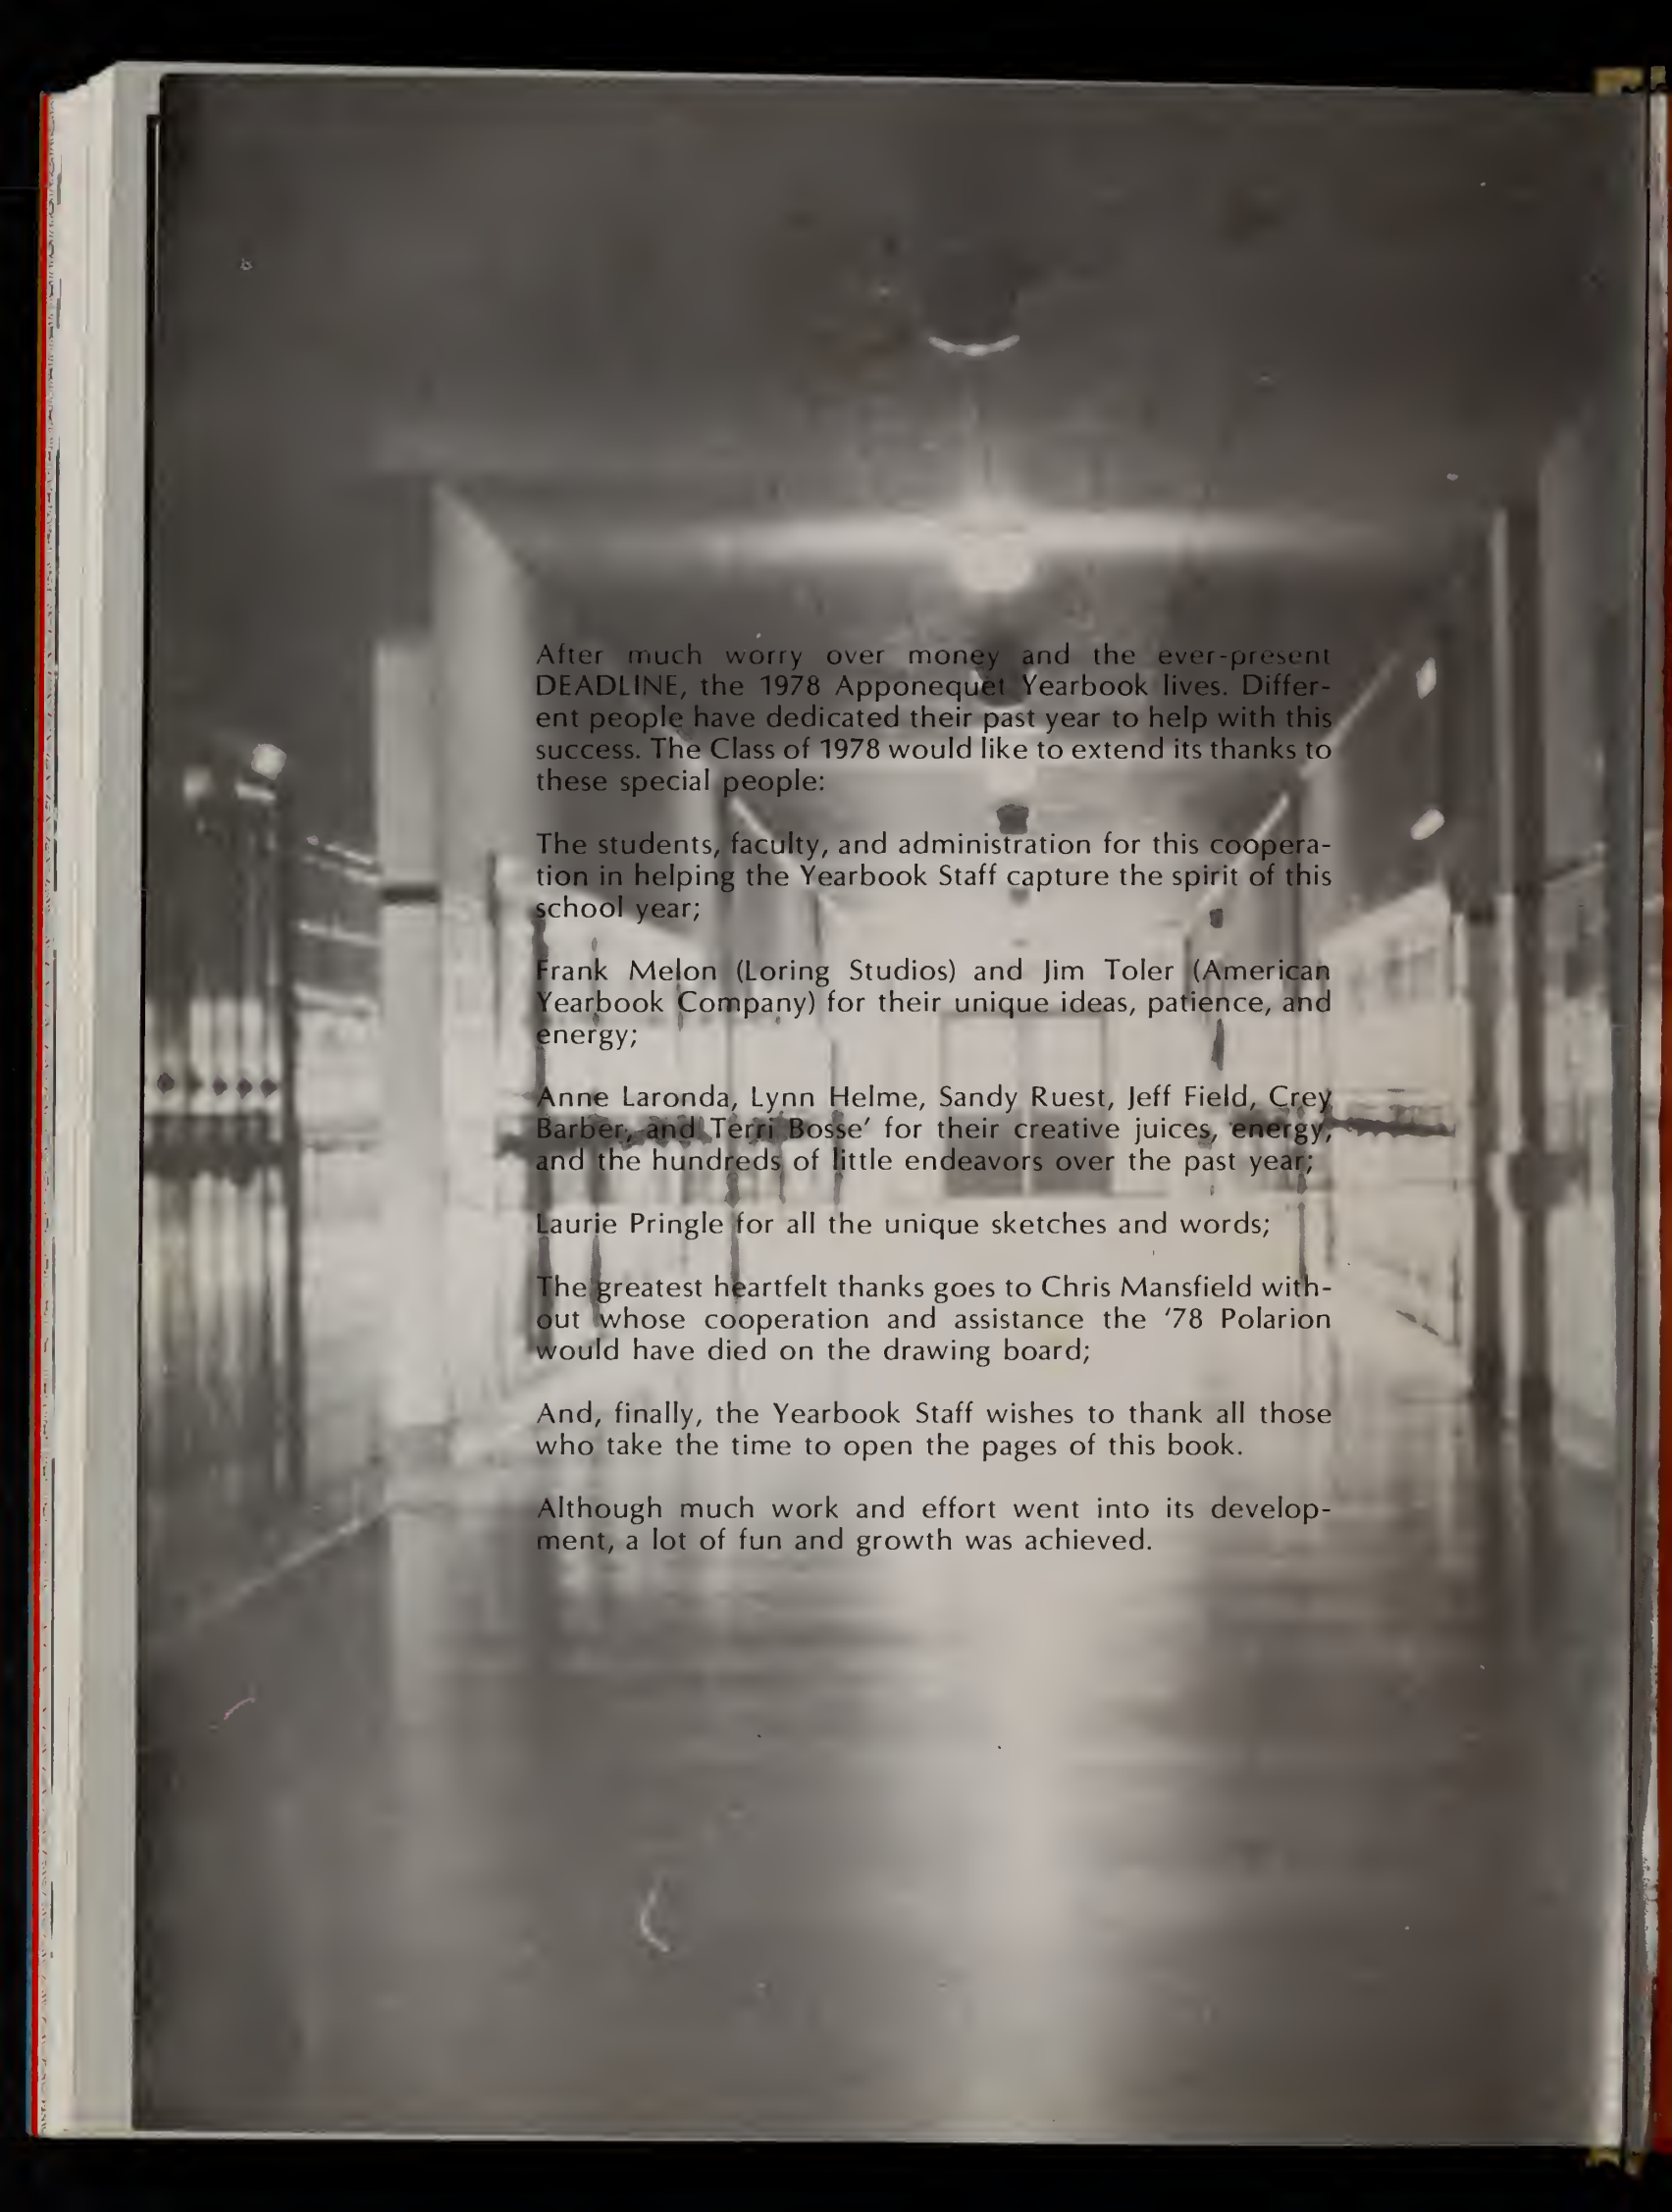

"Honest, my composition will be in Friday."

"Mommy?"

"More Space Cadets"

After much worry over money and the ever-present DEADLINE, the 1978 Apponequet Yearbook lives. Different people have dedicated their past year to help with this success. The Class of 1978 would like to extend its thanks to these special people:

The students, faculty, and administration for this cooperation in helping the Yearbook Staff capture the spirit of this school year;

Frank Melon (Loring Studios) and Jim Toler (American Yearbook Company) for their unique ideas, patience, and energy;

Anne Laronda, Lynn Helme, Sandy Ruest, Jeff Field, Crey Barber, and Terri Bosse' for their creative juices, energy, and the hundreds of little endeavors over the past year;

Laurie Pringle for all the unique sketches and words;

The greatest heartfelt thanks goes to Chris Mansfield without whose cooperation and assistance the '78 Polarion would have died on the drawing board;

And, finally, the Yearbook Staff wishes to thank all those who take the time to open the pages of this book.

Although much work and effort went into its development, a lot of fun and growth was achieved.
